 The author of this work was Augustino Patrice Picolomini, Bishop of Faenza; it was written about 1488 by order of Pope Innocent viii. Later, Christoporus Marcellus, Archbishop of Corcyra, published it without naming the author, but after having falsified the text to such an extent that the suspicions of the Cardinals were aroused, who referred the matter to the Pope, Leo x. Leo ordered the work to be suppressed, so that it has become rare.

Wherein the arguments of the puritans are | wisely prevented, that when they come to an- | swere M. Doctor, they must needes | say some thing that hath | bene spoken. | Compiled for the behoofe and overthrow of | the vnpreaching Parsons, Fyckers, and Currats, | that haue lernt their Catechismes, and are past grace : | By the reverend and worthie Martin Marprelat | gentleman, and dedicated by a second Epistle | to the Terrible Priests. | In this Epitome, the foresaide Fickers, &c. are very in- | sufficiently furnished, with notable inabilitie of most vin- | cible reasons, to answere the cauill | of the puritanes. | And lest M. Doctor should thinke that no man can write with- | out sence but his selfe, the senceles titles of the seueral pages, | and the handling of the matter throughout the Epitome, | shewe plainely, that beetleheaded ignoraunce, must not liue | and die with him alone. | [? By J. Penry.]
